INNOVATIVE MICAH CENTRE OPENS DOORS FOR SENIORS!

Our Class of 2020 were the first to be introduced to our new Micah Centre on Monday this week, with students gathering in House groups at each entrance and our Leadership Team opening the doors to welcome them in! There was much excitement as students explored each area, and hopefully a renewed energy to engage, connect and learn in this amazing space.

CONNECTEDNESS, EDUCATION + GRATITUDE

Dear Families,

Welcome to Term 2!

As we start this new term I would like to acknowledge the wonderful work of Vera Holl who retired from teaching at the end of Term 1 and Tim Knight who retired from teaching a couple of years ago but worked at Gleeson College as a support in the IT Department. I would also like to warmly welcome some new staff members in Tamira Thompson (Maths/ Science), Sarah Cornelius (English/HaSS – taking Kate Pill's teaching role as Kate is on long service leave), Elisa Shepperd in Reception and First Aid and Danielle Bailey in Student Services (now located in the new Micah Centre). We also are very happy to have Candice Mitchell back from long service leave in Term 1.

Opening of the Micah Centre

On Monday this week, we opened our new building, the Micah Centre, for Senior student use (see photos). It was indeed a proud moment after years of planning and significant hard work. The vision of our Principal, Mr Andrew Baker, the Micah Centre is the pinnacle of the student journey at Gleeson College. Year 7 students start out in the recently refurbished Faulkner Building and eventually progress to the Micah Centre to finish their education at Year 12.

Winston Churchill said "We shape our buildings and thereafter they shape us." It is certainly our hope that our Senior students are 'shaped' in a particular way by learning and socialising in the Micah Centre. We hope that they share deep connections with one another and their teachers. That they become capable and independent learners and show leadership in their respect for the building and each other.

What have we learned from COVID-19?

I read last week one of the many articles which have been published about the positive side of the global pandemic that we are living through and it struck a particular chord with me. In summary, it named seven positive outcomes of COVID-19, three of which have been very important to us at Gleeson College: Connectedness, Education and Gratitude.

COVID-19 has a rejuvenated sense of community and social cohesion. Self-isolation has challenged us as social animals who desire relationships, contact and interaction with other humans. Who would have thought that our 'Focus on Connection' theme at Gleeson College this year would become so important and on a global scale.

Education has been re-imagined. We are globally involved in one of the largest-scale experiments in changing education at all levels. Home-schooling is becoming a new way of learning, exposing many parents to what their children know and do. This connection of parents to school through their children and their learning has always been a desire of educators and it took this pandemic to make it happen.

Finally, COVID-19 is giving us is a new sense of appreciation and gratefulness. It has offered us a new perspective on everything we have taken for granted for so long - our freedoms, leisure, connections, work, family and friends. I am so grateful for being a part of the amazing community that Gleeson College is and I pray that we never forget to be thankful to the people who make it up.

My deepest gratitude to you, our families and to the amazing students and staff of Gleeson College.

Happy Mother's Day to our beautiful mothers and caregivers.

Principal 2020

ANZAC DAY 2020 > Middle School Students Learn, Acknowledge + Respect

LEST WE FORGET

Middle School Reading Classes have been involved in ANZAC Day reflections in Thomas Library this week. Students engaged and listened to the story, 'ANZAC Biscuits' by South Australian author, Phil Cummings.

The story depicts the experience of a soldier fighting at war while his wife and daughter prepare and cook ANZAC biscuits to send to him from the home front. As his wife puts on her bright flowered apron, he is fighting amongst the poppies on the battlefield, and while his daughter smells the heat and smoke from the oven as the cookies bake, her father experiences the smell of gunfire and bombs around him.

Students reflected on the meaning of ANZAC Day and why we acknowledge and show our respect each year on April 25. Students were then able to remember a family member they may know of who experienced war and place their name on a coloured poppy. These poppies are displayed in the library as part of our ANZAC reading display and a special tribute to those who fought at war.

YEAR 9 TEXTILES TECHNOLOGY > FASHION REVOLUTION!

In Year 9 Textiles Technology, students have been looking into the ethical and sustainable production of the clothes we wear. Students have watched 'The True Cost' film, which shows insight into poor working conditions and environmental impacts made by the fashion industry.

"I had no idea this happened to the people who make our clothes."

- Molly

"This documentary opened our eyes to the harsh fashion world that affects our everyday lives. Workers are being deprived of their basic human rights, all for a small piece of clothing that we would wear once or twice in our week. This needs to change as people are dying from all the toxins and being treated like animals. These workers can barely afford to pay their family let alone profit from this job.

This NEEDS to stop!"

- Tayla, Paige & Sofia

"The documentary for me was really eye-opening. I had no idea where the majority of my clothes were made, and it's a little distasteful knowing who made my clothes, and the hardships they are faced with for my personal gain."

- Scarlett H

"Although I knew that in countries such as Bangladesh and Cambodia, clothes makers were being underpaid - I didn't know just how poor their working conditions actually were.

It was also interesting to discover that almost all cotton is genetically modified and the chemicals that they use on the cotton can also irritate our skin and cause rashes and other allergic reactions. It was very confronting when the workers who tried to stand up for themselves were beaten and even shot by the company management, and the government as well, just for demanding a minimum wage. I hope that there are some major changes in the fashion industry in the near future and that all people's rights and beliefs are respected."

- Amy Tschina

"The documentary showed when workers in Cambodia tried to stand up for themselves they were just rejected and ruthlessly attacked by the government."

- Stephane Furler

"After watching the documentary, we were more aware of the struggles less fortunate people go through to make our clothes. We found surprising that they only make up to $2 a week and their working conditions are so bad that some of the workers lost their lives. We will consider the people making our clothes next time we buy them."

- Tia Proud

Students began investigating clothing brands that they commonly wear.

By considering and challenging "who made my clothes?" we can all lead a positive change in the ethical consumption of clothing, fight for fair working rights and reduce the environmental impact.

As a College, we challenge you to consider who made your clothes?

Thomas Blake,
Flexible Pathways Leader

Working together, the Life Buoyancy Institute Foundation and Federation of Catholic School Parent Communities SA are offering a series of free live online workshops across Term 2.

Living through Uncertainty

How can we reassure our kids and support them to grow and thrive?

Practical advice for parents, caregivers and teachers to support primary and secondary students through times of change and uncertainty

We are offering these workshops to help families and schools support children to feel well, deal with stress and be successful while the coronavirus continues to affect their schooling, social activities and daily family life.

The first workshop will look at primary school students and will be held on:

Thursday 14 May from 7.00 – 8.00 pm (Week 3)

The second workshop will look at secondary school students and will be held on:

Tuesday 19 May from 7.00 – 8.00 pm (Week 4) (students can join in side by side)

Who are the presenters, and will I be able to ask questions?

The workshops will be presented by Dr Ivan Raymond (psychologist|researcher), Kylie Agnew (psychologist|teacher) and David Kelly (manager for school programs like the IMPACT program at Tenison Woods College, Mount Gambier). You can ask questions and we encourage you to.

How much will each workshop cost me?

Nothing. The Federation is sponsoring these foundation workshops and six others across Term 2.

What technology will I need?

You will need a device (e.g. computer, smartphone, tablet) and you will need to download the free version of ZOOM. More information about how to join in will be sent to you when you enrol.

How do I enrol?

Click on the link(s) below for the workshop(s) you would like to attend and give your email address. You will receive an email confirming your registration from the LBI Foundation.

If you experience any problems, call one of the Federation's Parent Engagement Officers for help. Nicole: 0407 394 732. Lisa: 0400 680 601.
